Cause of infant death awaits lab report

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Authorities are awaiting an autopsy report in the Thursday death of an infant in custody of the State Department of Public Welfare.

Hancock County Youth Court Judge Michael D. Haas, stated, "The cause of death is not known at this time. The initial reports indicate infant sudden death syndrome."

"The medical examiner has ordered an autopsy in the infant's death," Haas added.

Late Friday, Hancock County Medical Examiner Harold Stiglet said, "An autopsy has been made and we are now awaiting reports from the lab as to the cause of the infant's death."

The child was referred to and was under the jurisdiction of the Youth Court because of a medical condition at birth.

Haas continued, "Due to the child's condition she was placed with custodians who have a medical background. There was a monitor in the child's room and one in the custodians bedroom."

Because of state statutes protecting the confidentiality of children under the jurisdiction of the Youth Court, the identities of all parties have been withheld, Judge Haas said.

Quotables by CUEVAS

The season of Mardi Gras is fast upon us with balls and parades forthcoming.

Preparations for the big events are underway with rehearsals for the balls and construction of floats.

We realize the construction of floats for the larger organizations is a year-long process.

Among the parades will be the Krewe of Nereids on Sunday, Feb. 22; Diamondhead Land and Sea parades on Saturday, Feb. 28; Pass Christian on Sunday, March 1; and Krewe of Triton and Krewe of Real People on Mardi Gras Day, Tuesday, March 3.

So as you can see, we will have quite a few parades in the area coming up in the next few weeks.

We do not want to forget St. Patrick's Day Parade which will be late in March.

We do hope everyone will begin to prepare for the Mardi Gras parades.

This is the time of the year to make preparations for spring clean-up which will be coming very soon.

There is a need for an extensive clean-up in so many areas in our communities.

Lately we have noticed several junked vehicles on the shoulders of the roads, not to mention numerous piles of illegal dumping.

An eye sore which was brought to my attention this week was the fact there are some lazy residents who never take their garbage cans in. They just leave the empty garbage cans alongside the road and take their garbage to them.

In addition to being unsightly, this may also cause someone 'casing a neighborhood' to think no one is at home, and could possibly end up in a burglary of a residence.

Many folks like to grow vegetables, and this is a good time to decide on the layout of your garden.

Many local gardeners had nice crops of tomatoes, peppers, beans, squash, cucumbers, etc., last season.

These are just a few things to think about this time of the year.

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

Mississippi receives $10.5 million for energy programs

The Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs and the Department of Energy and Transportation have scheduled public hearings in Tupelo, Greenwood, Jackson, Natchez and Gulfport to receive recommendations regarding how Mississippi should spend $10.5 million earmarked by federal court order for energy programs.

The money is payment to the state, plus interest, resulting from litigation before Judge Frank Theis of the U.S. District Court in Wichita, Kan. The "Stripper Well" case involves violations by a host of oil companies of pricing regulations in effect from 1973 until 1981.

The hearing on the Gulf Coast will be Wednesday, Feb. 18, in the first floor auditorium of the Fine Arts Building, Jefferson Davis campus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, Gulfport.

All hearings will begin at 7 p.m. and will last approximately two hours. All sites are accessible to the handicapped.

I have designated Energy and Transportation and Federal-State Programs as management agencies for programs in Mississippi that will be funded by the $10.5 million. I have directed the two agencies to conduct public hearings and report to me on recommendations for use of the funds.

The parties to the suit - the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), the states, refiners and certain major purchasers - entered into agreement for distribution of approximately $1.4 billion nationwide. The settlement provides $300 million to refiners and $200 million to major purchasers, with the remaining funds divided evenly between the federal government and the states.

The settlement requires that states use their share for energy related programs only, and that an "equitable share" of each state's funds be utilized for energy programs targeted for low-income individuals.

Persons wishing to submit written testimony should send it to John W. Green, executive director, Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation, 510 George St., Suite 300, Jackson 39202-3096; or to Beverly W. Hogan, executive director, Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, 2002 Walter Sillers Building, Jackson, 39201. Written testimony will be accepted until 5 p.m. Feb. 23. There will be a five-minute limit on oral testimony during the hearings unless additional time is requested in advance.

After receiving recommendations from Energy and Transportation and Federal-State Programs, I will formulate a state plan for expenditure of the funds that will be submitted to DOE for approval.

Additional information and oral testimony extensions may be requested by calling 364-4540 or 354-4542 from the Jackson area, or toll-free, 1-800-222-7622, from other parts of the state.

How many times have we thought this about a loved one who isn't performing up to our expectations?

We see their depression as a bad attitude. Misread their self-centeredness as a personality problem. Believe their inability to cope with daily activities is laziness.

But sometimes inappropriate behavior may be a warning sign of something more serious. A mental illness. Mental illness is a medical illness—not a personal weakness. And learning to recognize its warning signs can be the first step to healing the sickness.

Safe Drinking Water Act may prevent lead poisoning

Mississippi State Department of Health is cooperating with federal officials to eliminate a hazard in drinking water that might have caused the downfall of the Roman Empire.

Major new provisions of the Safe Drinking Water Act address the long-standing public health concern about lead in drinking water.

Health-conscious historians say leaching of the lead pipes the Romans used in their elaborate water delivery system might have produced neurological and psychiatric problems that led to the corrosion of the Empire. State and federal officials are taking steps to prevent such toxicity of this country's drinking water.

Lead poisoning usually produces chronic toxicity. Because the body does not effectively or efficiently eliminate lead, the heavy metal accumulates over months or years to develop clinical symptoms. Humans harbor lead ingested not only from water but also from occupational settings and, especially among children, from paint.

The rare but classic form of lead poisoning produces cramping abdominal pain, constipation, anemia, and a non-descript brain syndrome. Children, who can ingest large quantities quickly, more likely show these severe symptoms.

Lead poisoning most often shows as fatigue, headaches, a sleep disturbance, irritability, loss of appetite and weight, and non-specific muscle and joint pain. Lead harms both the brain and kidneys.

Amendments to the act feature major revisions to help insure lead-free drinking water. President Reagan signed the amendments and reauthorization of the act originally passed in 1974 in June 1986.

Under the original law, the Department of Health monitors public water supplies to assure that no supply exceeds the maximum contaminant level the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency established for lead. Some individual water wells, primarily private wells with lead seals and high corrosive waters, may still have problems; this act will outlaw construction of new wells with lead components.

The amended act affects three major changes:

—Effective immediately, the act prohibits the use of certain lead solder, flux, and pipes in the installation and repair of public water supply systems and in residential plumbing connected to a public water supply system.

Beginning June 19, 1988, two years from President Reagan's signing the Amendments - public water supply systems will be required to notify consumers who may be affected by lead contamination of their drinking water and to provide certain information to consumers, including facts about potential adverse health effects of such contamination.

As the state agency charged with enforcement of the act, the Mississippi State Department of Health will assist individuals or groups with compliance as soon as the EPA establishes new threshold levels. The new threshold will provide a bigger safety factor and allow individuals to know of even slight exposure to lead through public drinking water.

—Beginning June 19, the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Veterans Administration may not provide mortgage insurance or other assistance for new residential property if the plumbing contains lead in excess of the limits specified in the act.

—Beginning June 19, solder which has lead content in excess of 0.2 percent must prominently display a warning label that the use of that solder in making joints or fittings in any private or public potable water supply system is prohibited.

Many homeowners probably have water pipes which contain lead solder, but the likelihood of lead leaching into the water decreases as the house and fixtures age. After three or four years, little or no leaching occurs.

Coalition to lobby for Constitutional Convention

At a recent press conference in the State Capitol, four state wide organizations announced the formation of a coalition to push for legislative action for a constitutional convention to replace Mississippi's 1890 constitution.

Joining forces are Common Cause/Mississippi, Mississippi 2001, the League of Women Voters of Mississippi, and the Mississippi division of the American Association of University Women.

They will lobby the Legislature to bring about a state constitutional convention in 1988. The coalition will push the issue through the organizations' joint membership of 2,053.

Calling it "the most important public issue facing Mississippians in this generation," Common Cause state president Paul M. Neville urged citizens to contact their state senators and representatives to support the convention plan. Common cause is a citizens' lobbying organization.

Gerald Blessey, president of Mississippi 2001, called on the news media to take editorial positions in favor of early action in both houses of the Legislature. He said, "This issue is of crucial importance to the progress of our state. We cannot enter the 21st century with an 1890 constitution and hope to compete with the other states for jobs and a progressive future." Blessey, who is mayor of Biloxi, formerly served in the Legislature.

"A constitutional convention is a must," stated Vivian Sorrells, president of the state League of Women Voters. "It is vital to our progress in Mississippi to develop a new constitution that allows full participation of all our people. They need to be heard," she added.

Ellen Payne, state legislative chairman of the American Association of University Women, said her organization is working for a new state constitution because "today's Mississippi women have opportunities, responsibilities, and problems that are not being addressed under the current constitution. Legislators don't change constitutions. People do. We have that privilege and responsibility right now."

The People's Business

Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

LEGISLATORS ARE LISTENING
It's still early in the 1987 legislative session, but there appears to be a strikingly different mood among legislators this year from 1986 in one particular area.

That area is tort reform—revision of our system of justice through which injured parties are compensated for the wrongful civil actions of others.

Here's the difference among legislators. Last year, lawmakers seemed to be searching for a reason not to enact any changes in the system. Proposed legislation died in committee.

This year, however, legislators appear interested in finding a solution to the problem.

This is the problem: almost half of Mississippi's business owners and operators are being adversely affected by the present system.

They are being forced to make decisions which have a negative impact on their businesses, and a negative impact on the economic development of Mississippi.

Legislators recognize that tort reform is an economic development issue, and they may be ready to make necessary revision.

The principal reason legislators are interested in tort reform this year, however, is that they are hearing from the business owners and operators back home.

Mississippi businesses are operating under increasing threats of liability lawsuits and rising jury awards, and lawmakers understand that this environment threatens Mississippi's economic advancement.

The voice of business is being heard clearly. If your liability insurance rates are increasing, if you're facing liability litigation, if you're having to defend your business against a frivolous lawsuit, if you believe the time has come for tort reform in Mississippi, you will want to add your voice to the voices of other Mississippians.

This year, legislators are listening.

THE NEW YEAR IS HERE!

With the beginning of a new year, it is a time to look at the past. There were failures and there were accomplishments. Both are of value only as they enable us to profit from them in our plans and actions of the future.

When we think about the future, all plans must be qualified by "if it is the Lord's will."

James taught, "Go to now, ye that say, today or tomorrow we will go into such a city and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain: where as ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away. For that ye ought to say, if the Lord will, we shall live, and do this or that." (James 4:13-15)

We should not allow past failures or the fear of a holocaust hinder our planning for the future. We read in Proverbs, "Be not afraid of sudden fear..." (Proverbs 3:25)

This statement is prefaced by, "Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble. When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea thou shalt lie down and they sleep shall be sweet." (Proverbs 3:23-24)

We should take normal care, but we should not live in morbid fear.

To a great degree progress is in our hands. Solomon wrote, "Where there is no vision, the people perish..." (Proverbs 29:18)

Jesus said, "Say not ye, there are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? Behold, I say unto you, lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth unto eternal life: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together." (John 4:35-38)

There will be no harvest unless there is vision enough to prepare the soil and plant the seed.

Solomon said, "The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest and have nothing." (Proverbs 20:4)

Let us excel in preparing hearts and planting the seed of the kingdom in the hearts and minds of men.

Jesus said, "The parable is this: The seed is the word of God." (Luke 8:11)

To those to whom Peter was writing he said, "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit... Being born again not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever." (1 Peter 1:22-23)

The word of God is the incorruptible seed which must be planted in every mind. However it is possible to plant the pure word of God only in the minds of those who will receive it.

Our work in 1987 and for as long as we are privileged to work must be to uproot evil that controls the minds of people so truth can be seen and received. The minds of men must be cultivated to allow the truth to grow and develop.

We must ever remember, "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:32) Also "Sanctify them in thy truth, thy word is truth." (John 17:17)

The mayor has contended several times that the dirt around the pipeline, located at the lagoon, was not compacted properly by Hemphill Construction, the firm which installed it.

He explained that because the pipe is made of plastic and has a large diameter, it could become misshapen by the weight of the dirt on top if the dirt on the sides of the

NEW CLASSES

Starting Feb. 2 at 1 p.m. Oline Moran will be teaching a crochet class and the project will be crochet collars.

These lovely collars seem to be the rage now and we want to be sure we keep up with the times, so come and make a collar for yourself and your grandchildren.

We will furnish the thread, but you must bring your own needle or hook, size 8.

Some patterns call for different sizes, but you can come and see on Feb. 2 or earlier if you see Mrs. Moran.

Friday afternoon has been reserved for "clean up," but now we are going to have games or movie in the afternoon at 1 p.m.

We will have "white elephant" games this Friday and a movie on Jan. 23 - complete with popcorn.

For the games, everyone will get one card free and if you bring a white elephant for our prize table you will get another card. Limit 2 cards. All games will be for prizes, but donations will be accepted for snacks and prizes. (10-25 cents)

We will still have our big party games on Mondays or other days for special occasions.

HOLIDAY CLOSING

We will be closed for Martin Luther King's birthday Monday, Jan. 19. I will be celebrating my 50th birthday that day also. Now, I will really be one of you - a senior citizen and proud of it.

TRAVEL CLUB

Our seniors left on a cruise Sunday morning and will return Thursday evening. I know they will have a super time.

March 30 the Club takes another trip - this time to Spain! If you are interested, call the Center for Mrs. Tuleter Oliver.

is more efficient and productive employees," Frankiewicz said.

The number of city employees has been reduced from 74 to 68 in the past 18 months but they are actually maintaining more sewer and water lines and miles of paved roads.

"We have also pushed real hard to increase utility collections and have eliminated a large number of deadbeats from the utility system," Frankiewicz said.

He reported utility department arrears have been cut by 82 percent from $240,000 in June 1985 to $42,000 in October 1986.

The city has also been able to cut unaccounted gas from 26.8 to 11.5 percent by replacing gas lines and repairing leaks.

"All of this is included in how we are trying to be more efficient and get more out of a tax dollar," he said.

"In this day and age most governments are having to cut back on the services they provide but we are making it a challenge to not only to continue providing the current level of services but improve these as well," Frankiewicz said.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public.

The Lithotripter: The Alternative to Kidney Stone Surgery

Kidney stones are a painful and commonplace human ailment. And, until very recently, major surgery was the usual treatment.

Now there is the lithotripter, an advanced machine that focuses low-intensity shock waves on the brittle stones and crumbles them into pieces small enough to be flushed from the body in urination.

Lithotripsy involves little or no discomfort, requires no incision at all, and reduces hospitalization for kidney stone removal to a matter of a day or so, rather than weeks.

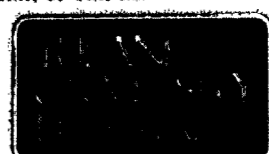

In fact, many lithotripsies are performed on an outpatient basis.

When it is carried out by a skilled and experienced medical team, lithotripsy has a success rate of approximately 97 percent.

The Gulf South's most experienced and respected lithotripsy center is Louisiana Lithotripter, Inc., at Tulane University Hospital - created by a group of 37 kidney specialists in Mississippi and Louisiana. LLI has performed well over 650 lithotripsies in the past year, and Tulane is one of only 16 medical centers in the country accredited by the American Urological Association to train physicians in the use of lithotripsy.

If you would like further information, consult your physician, or call us.

A reputation for medicine... A reputation for people.

James Schwartz of Shoreline Park was arrested at about 4:10 a.m. Saturday and charged with burglary, resisting arrest and contributing to delinquency of a minor, Police Chief Ray Murphy said.

Murphy said Schwartz was found near the building with eight cans of paint in his possession.

Schwartz has been released from the Hancock County Jail on $5,000 bond.

The juvenile, who has been turned over to Hancock County Youth Court authorities, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon, public profanity, resisting arrest, destruction of police property and burglary, Murphy said.

The arresting officers were Richard Hanna and David Parker. Hancock County Sheriff's Department assisted at the scene.

Man awaits hearing on drug, gun charges

BY DENA BISNETTE

A Route 1, Bay St. Louis man is awaiting a preliminary hearing on a charge of possession of marijuana with intent to sell or deliver.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner said Jack Berry, 24, of Route 1, Box 20, was arrested Wednesday and was also charged with possession of a handgun after conviction for a felony.

Ladner said both charges are felony charges and Berry is being held in the Hancock County Jail on $8,500 bond.

The investigator said Berry's previous convictions had been on burglary charges.

The charges stemmed from the execution of a search warrant on the trailer Berry occupies, Ladner added.

CHRISTINE LONGO AND RAYMOND COCCO

Longo-Cocco

Mr. and Mrs. John Longo Jr. of Waveland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Christine Elizabeth Longo, to Raymond Anthony Cocco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cocco of Clearwater, Fla.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Our Lady Academy and currently attends Auburn University.

She is the granddaughter of Marie Call Longo of Waveland and the late John S. Longo and the late Theodore W. and Mollie S. Crump of Gulf Shores, Ala.

Mr. Cocco is a graduate of Dunedin High School and received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Florida. He is pursuing a PhD in chemical engineering from Auburn University, where he is a research assistant.

The prospective groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zieck of Clearwater, Fla. and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cocco of Lyndhurst, N. J.

The couple will exchange wedding vows February 14 in a 1 p.m. ceremony at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with reception following at St. Clare parish hall.

Ladner-Seal

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the December 13 marriage of Colleen Joan Seal and Rickey David Ladner.

The Reverend Monsignor James McGough celebrated a 2 p.m. Nuptial Mass and officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver E. Seal of Piquette. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Ladner of Bay St. Louis.

Fan shaped arrangements of white gladioli, carnations, fuji and pom-pom chrysanthemums flanked the altar, which was surrounded by Boston ferns. Ivory satin bows marked family pews.

Music was provided by organist Mrs. John McKenna and soloist Mrs. Sandy Rhodes.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory beaded Alencon lace and silky satin. The molded bodice featured a sculptured V-neckline in front and back with long slim sleeves. The basque waistline was shaped over an inverted pleat front gathered skirt with court train edged in lace.

She wore a band headpiece of Alencon lace with crystal loops with scalloped fingertip veiling accented with pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of white dendrobium orchids, roses and stephanotis accented with mink and sprenger ferns.

Donna Woodcock of Pass Christian attended the bride as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Jennifer Dossett and Shelly Lee of Piquette, nieces of the bride; Karen Ladner of Bay St. Louis, sister of the groom; Nancy Shiyou of Kiln and Tangela Lee of Piquette.

The attendants wore identical tea length dresses of peacock blue satin each fashioned with elongated waistline, deep V-back and long slim sleeves. They carried hand-tied bouquets of white orchids, alstroemeria, leptospermum, heather and fern.

Mindi Godwin of Waveland, great-niece of the bride, was flower girl. Kendall Schindler of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the groom, was miniature bride.

The flower girl was dressed in a replica of the bridesmaids dresses, while the miniature bride wore a gown of ivory satin with Alencon lace and carried a small bouquet of stephanotis, rosebuds and fern.

Scott Carter of Bay St. Louis was best man.

Groomsmen were Curtis Thomas and Kevin Ladner and Greg Ladner, brothers of the groom, all of Bay St. Louis; Mike Lee of Piquette, nephew of the bride; and Daniel Mattingly of Belle Rose, La.

Ushers were Oliver (Tom) Seal, brother of the bride, and Chip Lee, nephew of the bride, both of Piquette; and Keith Johnson of Waveland.

Jonathan Harmon of Piquette, nephew of the bride was ring bearer. Miniature groomsmen were Jason Sick of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Seal chose for her daughter's wedding a pearl grey dress of georgette crepe with lace collar, long tapered sleeves and godet skirt. Mrs. Ladner chose a dusty rose dress of georgette crepe with venise lace collar, long pleated sleeves and pleated skirt.

PRM adds "Weekend Edition" on Sunday mornings

Public Radio in Mississippi (PRM) will begin broadcasting a special Sunday morning version of "Weekend Edition," premiering Jan. 18, from 8 to 10 a.m.

Hosted by Susan Stamberg, award-winning anchor of Public Radio's "All Things Considered" for 14 years, Sunday's "Weekend Edition" will focus on topics related to typical Sunday morning activities and interests.

During the course of any given program, Stamberg expects to talk with students, teachers, writers, musicians, newsmakers, filmmakers, critics, thinkers, travellers, collectors, cooks, car mechanics and religious leaders.

"Weekend Edition" on Sunday morning, says Stamberg, "will combine the style and substance of the New York Times' 'Arts & Leisure' section with the intimacy and spontaneity of the old Arthur Godfrey Show."

"On Sunday mornings, we hope you'll keep the radio going like your pot of coffee. We want to be a pleasant and informative companion."

Cook your breakfast to us, go about your Sunday routine...we'll spend the morning with you."

PRM's 'Micrologus,' usually heard at 9 a.m. on Sunday, will move to the 6 a.m. time slot, and "St. Paul Sunday Morning" will be broadcast at 10 a.m., immediately following "Weekend Edition."

LEGAL ETHICS

Programming on Mississippi ETV Wednesday evening, Jan. 21, is typically diverse and provides a little of something for those wanting entertainment as well as information. "An Evening of Championship Skating 1986" will be presented at 8 p.m. followed at 9 p.m. by "Ethics on Trial," a documentary about lawyers and their tough moral conflicts.

On "An Evening of Championship Skating," top amateur skaters gather at Harvard University's Bright Arena for the 17th Evening with Champions. John Powers hosts the program.

Reported by Fred Graham of CBS News, "Ethics on Trial" is an hour full of drama, tragedy and down-to-earth people. Shot on location in communities from coast to coast, the documentary presents ethical issues faced by lawyers and their clients through actual case studies, designed to show how the viewer—as a consumer of legal services—and the lawyer are affected.
